
Common Nonfiction Text Structures

- Cause and effect (This happens, so then that—and that and that—happens.)
 - Problem and solution (There is this problem. It gets solved in these four ways.)
 - Question and answer (There is this question. Here is a long answer. Then, another question and another answer.)
 - Compare and contrast (This is the same as that in these ways. It is different in these ways.)
 - Description (This looks like...)
-

From Unit 3: Navigating Nonfiction, Session 19